FSAAC MEMBER DEMONSTRATES UNIQUE TECHNIQUE FOR TEDIOUS REPAIRS

We've all had those disgusting challenges trying to see that little bitty screw or wire up under the dashboard, or someplace over our head where we couldn't tilt back to get a good close-up look long enough to fix the problem. Well, one of our own has demonstrated a simple method to resolve this risky problem which could result in a cricked neck or blood clotting behind the eyeballs – not to mention gnawing of the tongue and turning the air blue with loud expletives.

At Thursday's meeting, Ed Vann demonstrated his fool-proof solution to this problem in a matter of seconds! He simply turned his glasses upside down and looked upwards through his bifocals! Everyone was so impressed, he was asked to demonstrate it several times. What fun!! We knew Ed was a pretty smart guy, but we didn't realize he could be so entertaining! Thanks a million Ed!
